

Celebrating Differences – Everyone Can Sparkle!

It's Good to be Different KS2 Activity

Every one of us is unique. We are all different and have our own characteristics and personal background. We will, however, have some similarities and differences to other people. There are no two people the same, even when they are identical twins (they may have different personalities, skills and talents).

When we think about who we are, we also need to think about others and what similarities and differences we have.

If we notice similarities and differences, it is OK to ask people questions and be curious as long as we do it in a respectful and polite way.

As a class, complete the chart below. Once you have completed it, have a look and see what similarities and differences you can find.

Then, ask yourselves:

- ★ What would your class be like if you were all the same?
- ★ What positives are there about people having differences?
- ★ What positives are there about people having similarities?
- ★ If you were uncertain about something and were curious to know more, for example, about someone's culture, would you feel able to ask?
- ★ If you were to ask, how would you need to ask them?
- ★ Would you be happy to answer people's questions if they were asked in a kind, curious and polite way?
